AFTER PRINCE TUAN'S HEAD.

ALLIES SAID TO BE DEMANDING IT.

Some of the Ladies of the Legation Are Reported to Have Died Since the Capture of Pekin, From the Hardship—The Government's Reply to Li's Peace Supplications.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Shanghai, Aug. 22.—Delayed.—The Chinese report that the allies at Pekin demand the execution of Prince Tuan, the ring-leader of the anti-foreign movements. Tuan's idea in imprisoning Yung Lu was to make him a scapegoat. It is learned that the government of the Huanan province has issued placards announcing the extermination of the foreigners of north China and urging the Huanese to do likewise. It is reported that several ladies in the Pekin legation have died from the effect of the hardships of the siege.

GREAT FLEET AT SHANGHAI

London, Aug. 23.—A Shanghai despatch says that there are twenty-seven warships of the various nations there and at Wusung. The combined displacement is about 77,000 tons and they carry crews aggregating 7,000 men. More vessels are expected today It is believed here that international jealousy is the cause of this great naval assemblage.

PRIOR TO THE RELIEF.

London, Aug. 23, 4 a. m.—"Today 1,500 Americans attacked the imperial palace," says a dispatch to The Morning Post from Pekin, dated August 15th, "and captured four of the courts. The American flag is flying over the imperial granary, and the Imperial Bank has been looted."

Describing events prior to the relief, The Morning Post's correspondent cables: "On August 12th the Tsung Li Yamen requested a conference with a view to peace. No armistice was granted, however, and that night we endured the longest fusilade of the whole siege It lasted 12 hours. On August 13th the Tsung Li Yamen begged to be excused from any conference, saying that the members were too busy. Later they wrote that they had forbidden firing on us and would court-martial any who disobeyed. During the evening many shells fell in the legation compound."

The Daily Chronicle publishes an interview with the Japanese minister in London, which represented him as having said: "The Empress is the heart and soul of China. So long as she lives, so long as she remains in China, whether the supreme power is taken from her or not, she will always be the greatest force, the one above all others to be reckoned with. The difficulty will be to get any one who can speak for her. I fear that the influence of Li Hung Chang is now of extremely little weight.

"The powers must come to a final understanding quickly. Riots, anarchy, bloodshed and misery throughout China will be the inevitable result of a policy that does not immediately disclose itself. The government must be re-established."

THE REPLY TO CHINA.

The American reply to China's request for peace negotiations is chiefly characterized by its firm tone and its brevity. Its key-note is the President's attitude as laid down in the American note of July 3d. While the document is open to the construction of being a rejection of Li Hung Chang's proposition for immediate negotiation, yet it is stated by those who have read the answer with care and have had a part in its preparation, that rejection is probably too strong a term to apply to it. The United States places itself in the position of being ready at the proper time to take up peace negotiations, but in the present unsettled condition of affairs in the empire, the lack of knowledge as to who are the responsible rulers, and what constitutes the actual Chinese government, it is made clear that the time has not arrived for pursuing the negotiation proposed. The government of the United States takes the position that negotiations are impossible with a government which cannot prevent hostilities against the forces of the powers which were sent to the Chinese capital to save their envoys. As long as attacks are made on the troops of this and other governments, such as have followed the occupation of Pekin and the attacks in the vicinity of Tien-Tsin, it is deemed that the Chinese government is either unwilling or unable to prevent these hostilities and for this reason negotiations must be deferred. It is stated, however, that the reply is a step in the direction of opening up negotiations.

The United States, in communicating with Mr. Wu, recognize Li Hung Chang as the official representative of the Chinese government.

The most important development of yesterday as to the actual conditions in Pekin came late in the afternoon when the State Department made public a dispatch from Minister Conger, dated at Pekin only three days ago. It is as follows:

"Pekin, Aug. 21.

"To Secretary of State, Washington:

"The entire city, with the exception of the imperial palace, is occupied by Japanese, Russians, British, Americans and French. It is being apportioned into districts for police supervision. The imperial family and the court have gone westward, probably to Sian Fu in the province of Shen Si. No reports of the Chinese government are in sight in Pekin and the conditions are chaotic. The palace is expected to be taken immediately. Many missioners have started for home, while other remain in charge of the Christian refugees, numbering about 1,000.

CONGER."

Minister Conger makes no mention of his desire to come home and it is stated officially that this government has made no suggestion that he return to this country.

MR. BATTLE'S MIDNIGHT WORK.

He Shoots Several Times at a Burglar, Who Shows That He is a Sprinter Capable of Making a Record.

Mr. Lee H. Battle, who resides on East Gaston street, had an exciting experience with an unknown caller last night. About 1 o'clock this morning he was awakened by a noise on the back porch, and looking out through an open window he observed the figure of a man. The porch is enclosed by lattice work and Mr. Battle was unable to get a good view of the man, but he began shooting in his direction.

When a servant went down stairs and turned a light on the porch, in order to get his exact location, the fellow made a break through the lattice door and ran like a wild horse, while Mr. Battle did his best to give him a dose of cold lead. Five or six shots were fired, but if the would-be burglar was struck he was not seriously wounded, for he kept running until out of sight.

The children keep a goat in the back lot, and some of Mr. Battle's friends are unkind enough to suggest that inoffensive Billy was the cause of all the trouble.

The Opticians' Second Day.

The members of the State Optical Society, in session in the Southern Loan and Trust Company building, spent the forenoon at work on the constitution and by-laws.

Several more members came in last night and this morning and were at today's sessions. Four new members were elected.

Mr. Fred N. Day, of Winston, was elected second vice-president of the society.

Robbers at Pomona.

Robbers entered the Lindley Store Company's store, at Pomona, last night, but were frightened away. If they carried away anything, it has not been missed.

Superintendent Bergman, of the county road force, has a pair of young bloodhounds he is training, and they were carried to the scene. They failed to take the trail and were soon called off.

Failed to Land Him.

The grand jury failed to return a true bill against James H. West, who was indicted for retailing whiskey. The evidence was not sufficient to show that he had ever sold any liquor, although the State's witness was the man who claimed to have bought it.

TERROR IN AKRON.

MOB SLAUGHTERS CHILDREN.

$2,000,000 OF PROPERTY DESTROYED

The Mob Began Operations Yesterday Morning and Have Succeeded in Killing Five People, Two of Them Babies and One Was Shot Dead in Its Mother's Arms—Two Buildings Burned and One Partially Wrecked—Militia Likely to Prevent Further Violence—Chief of Police Insane Over the Work.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Akron, Ohio, Aug. 23.—The mob which began raging in this town yesterday morning at 1 o'clock, fled before the soldiers of the Fourth Regiment this morning as they marched down the street with fixed bayonets. The city hall is in ruins, and the loss of that alone amounts to a million dollars. The mob had started for the home of the Chief of Police when the troops hurrying to the rescue, dispersed them. Five persons have been killed, and two more are dying. Two buildings have been burned and one partially wrecked. Property worth between one and two millions have been destroyed. Two of the dead are babies, one of them being shot in its mother's arms. The mayor and the city officials were beseiged in the city hall, and two hours before its destruction, escaped through the rear windows.

THE MAYOR TALKS.

A long distance telephone message to New York from Mayor Young, of Akron, at 10 o'clock this morning said: "The situation seems more satisfactory. The prompt response of the troops dispersed the mob. The Chief of Police is now in my house, having escaped from his house which was surrounded by the mob. All the city officials are at my house, also, with the militia officers. We are now in conference, devising plans for the protection of the city. We fear serious trouble tonight. We are protected by the militia, which entirely surrounds my house, and a detachment also is camped near where the city hall stood. The situation is precarious, but we hope, with the aid of the state soldiers, to prevent further violence. Business was resumed this morning.

Chief of Police Harrison became deranged over last night's work and another chief has been appointed.

THE CITY OF AKRON.

Akron is a city of about 65,000 inhabitants, and the largest centre for rubber manufacturing in the world. It is situated in the old Garfield Congress district and is the home of Col. Chas. Dick, Secretary of the National Republican Executive committee. An account of the origin of the trouble is contained on page 2, of The Telegram.

THE AKRON NEGRO AT CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, Aug. 23—Peck, the negro for whom the Akron mob searched last night is in jail here, and another negro named Howard was also brought here as it was feared that the mob might attack him.

The President has appointed D. R. Collier, United States Pension Agent at Louisville, Ky., to succeed General Leslie Combs, who resigned to become chairman of the State Republican committee. Mr. Collier was adjutant-general of the State during Governor Taylor's encumbency.

The "Regular" or Dupont faction of the Republican party held its State convention in Wilmington, Del., yeseerday and nominated Martin B. Burris, of Newcastle county for Governor.

Edward R. W. McCabe, of Virginia, and Robert M Milam, of Tennessee, have been designated by the President for appointment as Second Lieutenants in the regular army.

Johnson in Washington.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington—William M. Johnson, the newly appointed assistant post master general, arrived this morning and was sworn in. Later he was received at the chief's bureau. He begins his new duties the latter part of September, in accordance with the understanding when he accepted the office.

Huntington Will to be Filed.

By Wire to the Telegram.

New York, Aug. 23.—Mr. Tweed said to day that the Huntington will will be filed tomorrow. Mr. Tweed said he saw no reason why there should be any change in the scheme to make Galveston the Gulf terminus of the Southern Pacific.

The Eloping Salisbury Duck Returns Home.

Salisbury, Aug. 22.—George Fink, the merchant who eloped with his milliner, Miss Bertha Yates, put in an appearance late this afternoon. This had been his intention all along and he had not taken the trouble to draw on his bank account before leaving. Mr. Fink is endeavoring to arrange a reconciliation with his injured wife. He was unsophisticated enough not to anticipate the scandal which his conduct caused. The couple parted in Asheville, the young woman going westward and Fink coming here.

Wanted an Excuse.

How to Stuff Loin of Lamb.

Have the bones removed from between four and five pounds of lamb; wipe the meat well with a cloth wrung out of borax water, dry it and spread it out on a board. Make a stuffing with half a pound of fresh crumbed white bread, two ounces of lean boiled bacon which has been passed through a mincer, a teaspoonful of chopped onion and a tablespoonful of parsley; season with salt, pepper and a little grated nutmeg and add sufficient beaten egg to moisten the mixture. Spread it evenly over the meat; then roll it up neatly, tie it at intervals with fine white string to keep it in place and bake it in a well heaten oven, basting it frequently. Bake one hour. Surround by either thick or clear brown sauce and serve.

How to Cook Rice Whets.

Turn a pint of boiled rice into a square mold and stand overnight in a cool place. Cut in slices, dip in melted butter and grill to a light brown over a hot fire. These dainty bits of toasted rice are also used for appetizers at dinner, spread with fish pastes, etc., and are otherwise a delightful substitute for toast under cheese, eggs, savories, etc.

How to Make Rye Doughnuts.

Three eggs, one pint of sour milk, sugar or molasses to sweeten, one teaspoon soda, cup flour, rest rye meal; drop a spoonful of dough at a time in hot lard.

GOING TO WHIP GEO. BUTLER.

A Clinton Man Says No Appology Will be Accepted From Him.

Special Dispatch to The Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 23—A gentleman from Clinton who was here yesterday, says feeling there is so intense against Maj. George E. Butler, brother of Senator Butler, on account of an editorial in the Senator's paper there, that they will not take an apology, but insist on giving him a thrashing, such as was given Populist ex-Congressman John E. Fowler. The man from Clinton says Butler was looked for but could not be found.

For Larceny, Fighting, Etc.

The first case called in the Superior Court this morning was State vs. Richard Jones, colored charged with larceny. The jury believed the evidence of the State's witnesses, and returned a verdict of guilty, whereupon Richard was sentenced to the county roads for four months.

Joe Bowman was found guilty of an affray, but judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

The case against Wilkerson, for shooting Ben Jennings last winter, was continued until the next term on account of the absence of the latter.

James Holland, colored, was found guilty of retailing. Judgement has not yet been pronounced.

Death of Mr. McDaniel.

Mr. H. C. McDaniel died last night at his home on Walker Avenue. He was paralyzed last Saturday night, since which time he has been in a critical condition. The funeral was held at Bethel church, eight miles east of town, this afternoon.

The deceased was a son of Dr. A. P. McDaniel, of McLeansville. He was 38 years old and had resided in Greensboro for several years. He was unmarried.

Mr. Rankin Recovers Stolen Property.

Some one visited Mr. A. L Rankin's premises last night and robbed his hen house of a number of fine chickens. They were nice and fat, and Mr Rankin did not propose to give them up without putting forth an effort to find them or the thief. He instituted a search and finally located them in Warnersville, at the store of a colored man, Anderson Nelson's, who had bought them from a young negro early in the morning. Nothing more has been seen of the thief.

MOB RULE IN AN OHIO TOWN.

FRANTIC FOR THE LIFE OF A NEGRO.

In Pursuit of a Negro Who Had Been Spirited Away the Mob Takes the Jail, the Court House and City Hall—They Loot a Hardware Store of Arms and Kill a Boy and a Little Child.

Akron, Ohio, Aug. 22.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning Officer John Duffy arrested a man who, during the day, confessed to Prison-Keeper Washer, of having attempted to assault Christina, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Maas, industrious and respectable people who live on Perkins' Hill. The prisoner had given his name as Louis Peck. He is about 40 years old, married, and recently moved here.

The story of his confession spread like wild fire through the city and officers learned that an attempt would be made tonight to lynch him. In the police court today, Peck pleaded guilty and was bound over to the Common Pleas Court. His bail was placed at $5,000.

Several thousand people are ready tonight to lynch Peck. A large crowd gathered about the city prison at 7:30 o'clock and forced in the doors. The prison was soon packed with the mob and the officers offered no resistance, as Peck, earlier in the evening, had been quietly taken away to Cleveland. To satisfy the mob, the officers suggested that a committee of six be appointed to search all the cells and go through every part of the building. This was done and as the negro was not found, a yell was made "Now for the county jail!" "Give us the nigger, and we will deal with him!" A mad rush followed for the jail and soon the jail was in the hands of the mob. After going through the private apartments of the jail the crowd started to batter down the big iron doors. Deputy Sheriff Stone stood in front of the prison doors, and made a speech. He informed the crowd that Peck could not be found in there and he told the people in the mob to select a committee and he would allow the committee to search the jail from top to bottom. A committee was quickly selected and the jail was searched, every cell being examined. Satisfied that the negro was not there, the mob then rushed across the street and forced open the doors of the county court house. The old court house was soon packed and all rooms searched except the rooms in the treasury department.

The city prison was again surrounded and hundreds of people forced their way into the prison for the second time, insisting that the negro was there. Mayor W. E. Young at this time appeared at one of the windows in the upper part of the building. He addressed the mob as best he could, saying that Peck had been taken out of the prison at 4 o'clock by Sheriff Kelly and driven out of the city in a closed carriage. The people in the mob would not believe the mayor and continued to yell and demand that Peck be surrendered.

At 10 o'clock the mob began for the third time to attack the city prison. Some one in the crowd began shooting at the building. This was followed by several more shots. The officers in the building appeared at the windows and began to shoot over the heads of the people. A man with a shot-gun then fired at the officers. It is said that several officers were wounded. The crowd then began to smash in the windows of the city building and the firing became general.

Hundreds of shots were exchanged and one boy, name unknown, was carried dead from the street. It is certain that dozens of men were wounded. Mayor Young is yet in the building and is directing a call for the militia. All the ambulances of the city have been called out and the excitement has become intense. The front of the city building is a total wreck and the fire bells are ringing.

At 10:45 p. m., Prison-Keeper John E. Washer came from the city building and he was knocked down by a brick. He was badly injured about the head and had to receive medical attention.

It was known that two persons were instantly killed and another person is dying at the city hospital. The dead are:

Glen Wade, aged 10, shot through the heart; John M. Davidson's 4-year-old baby shot dead in the carriage.

Fred Vorwick, aged 25, is badly wounded with buckshot. He lives at No. 43 North street and is now dying at the hospital. A man named Mull was shot in the head and also in one of the legs. Another man whose name could not be learned, but who is a driver for the American Express Company, was shot in the leg.

Shortly after midnight the mob broke into a hardware store and stole all the firearms and ammunition they could find, including guns, rifles and revolvers, and proceeded to the city building and opened fire on the defenders and finally set fire to the Columbia Hall, which adjoins the city building. They will, no doubt, set fire to the city building before morning as the flames are spreading rapidly.

QUESTIONS PUT TO MR. BRYAN.

A Republican Catechizes Him on the Philippine Question and is Promptly Answered and Catechised in Turn—Mr. Bryan Defends His Action on the Peace Treaty.

Falls City, Neb., Aug. 22.—This was a busy day for Mr. Bryan. It was after 1 o'clock this morning when he reached Auburn, his first stopping place after leaving Lincoln. At 8 o'clock he made an hour's address there. At Tecumseh, the next stopping place, he spoke briefly and after a hasty dinner started upon a 21-mile drive across the country to Pawnee. At the Tecumseh meeting the most interesting incident was a colloquy between Mr. Bryan and a gentleman in the audience, evidently a Republican, who propounded several questions to the speaker. This gentleman interrupted Mr. Bryan toward the close of his speech by suggesting that the Filipinos were on a par with our Indians. To this Mr. Bryan responded:

"Now, as I understand you, you think we were right in taking the property of the Indians?"

"No, sir."

"Then do you think it right to take the property of the Filipinos?"

"No, sir," responded the man in the audience, "and nobody is going to. How does the treatment of the Filipinos differ from the treatment of jail birds in this country? Do you believe in punishing jail birds?"

Mr. Bryan: "Your face is the face of an intelligent man and you cannot fail to see the difference between putting men in the penitentiary for the commission of a crime, and going over to the Philipines and taking charge of the government for the Filipinos."

"When I see a man like you," was the response of the interlocutor, "who favored the peace treaty, "I think that man ought to have some consistency about him."

"I am much obliged for your mentioning that," replied Mr. Bryan, "for I should not feel like bringing it to your attention unless called upon to do so. I urged the ratification of the treaty and also urged the passage of the resolution promising independence to the people of the Philippines, and if your Republican administration had passed the resolution, there would have not been one drop of blood shed in the Philippines."

"Oh! That is your opinion."

"That is not only my opinion, but if you will stop to think about it and give the public the honest result of your thoughts it will be your opinion that if we had made the same promise of independence to the Filipinos that we did to the Cubans, we would have had no conflict there. Had we treated Cuba as we did the Philippines, there would be war in Cuba today, and had we treated the Filipinos as we did the Cubans there would be no war in the Philippines today."

The questioner made an indistinct reference to Mr. Bryan's capacity for the presidency, and asked Mr. Bryan if he believed the Filipinos were capable of self-government. To this Mr. Bryan replied:

"Admiral Dewey stated in a message to the Secretary of the Navy that the Filipinos were better capable of self-government than the Cubans and that he based his judgment after a study of both races. Whether you believe as I do or not, you are able to draw the line between the natural right of the Filipino and the natural right of the Cuban. If it is true of the Cubans, it is true of the Filipinos and I want to make it so."

Fire From Lightning.

Charlotte Observer.

At 8 o'clock last night during the heavy storm, lightning struck the cow sheds at the far end of the Charlotte Oil and Fertilizer Company's lot. They were ignited at once and were burned up. Inside the sheds was a large quantity of hay and straw. The sheds were of unusual dimensions, having been built to stall several thousand cows. The total loss was several thousand dollars

The flames from the burning buildings cast a dull red glare over the heavens and alarmed the entire population of this city. It was reported first that lightning had struck the oil tanks in the fertilizer warehouse and that the whole plant was on fire. The report was current also that the Atherton Mill was being burned to the ground.

Without Recourse to the Old Cry.

Greensboro Patriot.

We are a little slow about adopting the race issue as a foundation for the presidential campaign because we have yet failed to see the wisdom of or the necessity for such a policy. Beyond question North Carolina is a Democratic state and Hon. Wm. J. Bryan can rest assured of its electoral vote. The recent campaign has determined the status of the negro in this state for a long time, and it ought to be beneath the dignity of the Democratic party to drag him through another campaign when the necessity for such an act does not exist. It is not probably or scarcely possible that the negro will ever attempt to regain the ascendency in the east which he enjoyed up to August 2, even though the constitutional amendment does not take affect at once. Anent the development of conditions justifying another such a campaign, Democracy should rest content with its victory and strive for the perpetuation and supremacy of its doctrines without resource to the old cry of "nigger," which was heard on every tongue a few weeks ago. A federal office holding negro is no less objectionable than one holding a state or county office, yet we are at a loss to know how a presidential campaign conducted along another than platform lines could affect the former. Above all, if Democratic promises are to be kept inviolate the race issue can have no place in the approaching campaign. A certain amount of magnanimity toward the vanquished, together with the fairness and justice which the occasion demands, will neither come amiss now nor jeopardize the political attitude of the state.

The Danger is Past--Be Frank and Candid. Let Sambo Rest.

Charity and Children.

We hope the politicians will let the poor negro alone. He has landed many a patriot right over the pie counter, but we are greatly mistaken or he will make but little sign in the presidential campaign. Cannot the leaders afford to make the issues the real ones that are so greatly agitating the country, and not poor Sambo again? Why play into the hands of our brethren of the North, who have always contended that the cry of "nigger" was only an appeal to passion and prejudice? The party that goes out with "negro domination" for its slogan, loads itself at the outset and must stay on the defensive throughout the campaign. To be sure there are a few negro postmasters and revenue officials, but everybody knows there is no fear of negro domination from these and it were the supremest folly for our papers to go into hysterics over it, or our candidates to point out the danger to our wives and children from the "black brutes." The fact is, that business was settled on the second day of the present month, and unlike Banquo's ghost, it is down to stay. The red shirt may as well be folded away. The danger of negro rule is past. It is neither manly nor honest to raise false issues to conjure with. It is always wise to be frank and candid.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 22.—Judge Cantrill today being satisfied that Henry Youtsey is not in proper physical condition to stand trial for alleged complicity in the Goebel murder, continued the case until the next term of court.

Owing to illness in the family of one of the attorneys for Combs, Whitaker and Davis, these cases also were postponed to the October term. The accused will be admitted to bail in the sum of $3,000 each.

Albemarle Has a Fine Well.

Charlotte Observer.

Citizens of Albemarle, who were in Charlotte yesterday, were boasting of the finest artesian well water in the State. The wells go 350 feet in the ground and an unlimited supply of white sulphur water is obtained. The water is strongly charged with sulphur as the odor will bear witness. The Wiscossett Cotton Mill Company own the well, but the people of the town use the water.

Farmer Clausen Sufficiently Amused.

Wilmington Star.

Farmer Clausen, of Long Island, doesn't want any more celluloid collars. The other day while tugging at a Brooklyn cigar trying to light it, a spark hit his collar, and soon his neck was encircled by a band of flame. It was extinguished before the conflagration proceed far, but it proceeded far enough to singe his neck all around and cure him of any partiality for celluloid collars.

MISS PACKARD MEETS PAPA.

Arrives in Philadelphia as Miss Jones and When Jones Arrives Shoots Him With About Two-Hundred Words a Minute.

The Dr. Wilkinson, of Dover, Del., who eloped with his sister-in-law, Miss Packard, and spent part of the eloping period in North Carolina, was arrested in Atlanta and taken back to Dover. Mrs. Packard went to Atlanta for her daughter. The following special of yesterday to the Charlotte Observer from Philadelphia talks of their arrival in that city:

"Miss Jones, of Pittsburg," is the name and address adopted by Miss Josephine Packard, the "heroine" of the sensational elopement from Dover, Del., with Dr. Howard M. Wilkinson, her brother-in-law.

With her mother and an escort she arrived in this city this morning, and was driven to No. 1,111 Walnut street, where a suite of rooms had been engaged in advance, for the accommodation of "Mr. Jones, Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones, of Pittsburg." Mrs. Weil, who conducts a very exclusive boarding house at this address, was given to understand that the Jones family was made up of invalids, who wished accommodations for a short time while undergoing examination at the hands of a noted specialist in nervous diseases. Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones finally arrived and had an alleged specialist. Detectives, friends and relatives followed in ther wake.

After a few hours there was a lull in the excitement and the page at the door had a few moments rest. Then one man arrived. That was "Jones, of Pittsburg." The thing had become a farce, but the arrival of Jones introduced a bit of realism not down on the card. Miss Jones broke loose, told Mr. Jones what she thought of him. It was this outburst of temper that advertised to everybody in the house that "Miss Jones, of Pittsburg," was really Miss Josephine Packard, of Dover, Del., who had a few thousand words to say to her father and was saying them at the rate of 200 words a minute. The father was utterly unable to get in a word. She accused him of pretty nearly everything short of murder and wound up by saying he was about to put her in an insane asylum, and that the physician who had examined her earlier in the day had been hired to deprive her of liberty.

"I am no more crazy than you are. I knew what I was about and I am ready to face my responsibilities," was her peroration, and with that her father fled. During the day Miss Packard was visited by a celebrated specialist of nervous diseases.

Tuesday Night's Wedding.

A marriage ceremony is an occurence all feel an interest in. Go to the Banner Warehouse next Tuesday night and see the Lilliputian wedding. It will interest and amuse you, and all it will cost you to see it will be 5 cents.

For 10 cents more you can see the "Living Library," and just guess to your heart's content.

Refreshments will also be served and the Home Orchestral Club will furnish music.

The wolf in the fable put on sheep's clothing because if he traveled on his own reputation he couldn't accomplish his purpose. Counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve couldn't sell their worthless salves on their own merits, so they put them in boxes and wrappers like DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. Howard Gardner. Aug.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

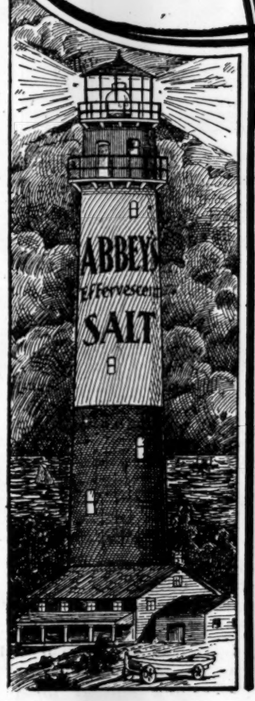
Avoid the Shoals



of ill health. Don't let some trifling ailment develop into a deep rooted disease. If you wish to enjoy perfect health you must see that your blood is pure and free from all disease breeding germs. Such germs will follow the blood on its journey throughout the body, and wherever there is a vital spot, such as the Stomach, Liver, Kidney, etc., they lodge, feeding on the life giving tissue. This is an insidious method of developing diseases and complications of diseases. When you find it is too late and your health is gone, you are willing to make any sacrifice to regain that which is lost. Don't drift too far. Your beacon light for permanent, perfect, health is

Scrofula

THE OFFSPRING OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAINT.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease manifesting itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and abscesses and oftentimes white swelling—sure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for a long time, for the disease develops slowly in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying and building up the blood and stimulating and invigorating the whole system.

J. M. Seals, 115 Public Square, Nashville, Tenn., says: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and cut her forehead. From this wound the glands on the side of her face became swollen and bursted. Some of the best doctors here and elsewhere attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

SSS makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body, and is a positive and safe cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and no remedy so thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood. If you have any blood trouble, or your child has inherited some blood taint, take S. S. S. and get the blood in good condition and prevent the disease doing further damage.

Send for our free book and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge whatever for medical advice.

THURSDAY AUGUST 23, 1900.

MUST SETTLE IT FOR OURSELVES.

There is no more familiar fact in the nation's history—and none more creditable to the liberality and wisdom of Democratic statesmanship — than that contiguous territories, with populations that could be assimilated, have been annexed from time to time for the purpose of expanding them into States. How vastly different is this from the policy, which does not contemplate the expansion of the Philippines into States of the Union, and which proposes to govern the millions of that remote archipelago as subjects! It is acknowledged that the strangely mingled inhabitants of the Philippines, having no interests, sentiments, customs or language in common with the American people, cannot be treat-now or hereafter as citizens of the United States.—Philadelphia Record.

Considering the fact that Alaska, which is not contiguous territory, has been governed by Congress for years without anybody suggesting that it should be made a State, there does not appear any reason why some other territory should not be so governed. The question of miles does not effect the principle. We bought Alaska without consulting the inhabitants thereof, and no one has yet said that the people of that territory were deprived of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness when Russia transferred her sovereignty to us.

There can be no doubt, though, that the fathers never dreamed of expansion as contemplated today. Mr. Jefferson advocated the incorporation of Cuba into "our National domain," but certainly as a state when it became worthy of statehood. But that is no warrant for us in the present time. While the fathers never thought of the day when it should become necessary for us to face the serious problem of expansion, they likewise didn't dream that one day we should have the electric telegraph, the steam engine or the thousand other things that have practically annihilated time and distance, and brought us into closer contact now with the Philippines than Jefferson was with Cuba. They were themselves the product of expansion and were expanding every day, and had no occasion to think that the time would ever come when the country must cease expanding or cross the Pacific.

There were the identical arguments made against expanding around Texas as are made today against expanding into the Philippines. The lessons of history teach that one generation cannot lay down iron-clad regulations for another. Cicero's "O TEMPORA, O MORES!" has been repeated by every generation of men since his day, who thought that things were not being done as the fathers would have done them. And yet, the changes went on. There is a golden mean between the conservatism that stagnates and the radicalism that rashly tears down the old without counting the cost. There come problems to nations as to individuals, that they must meet and settle in the light of the circumstances and duties of the hour. Our nation must put its conscience and its brain into the question that confronts us now and settle it for itself, without much regard for what we think the fathers might have said under the limitations of their time instead of in the light of a world-wide perspective.

We have at last got a "slution" of the negro problem that slutes right. The State Federation of Colored Ladies, of Michigan, met yesterday, and after asking the President to pay the widow of the Lake City postmaster $40,000, said:

We would like to ask for a law to be enacted to this effect, that should any State be found guilty of mob law and lynching it be expelled from the Union. The blacks then could evacuate and all the negro-haters could have a state of their own, wherein they need not see a black face. Thus we solve the negro problem.

Thus we do indeed. This would be a dissolution as well as a solution. It would in the past few days have expelled Louisana, Illinois, New York, and today, Ohio. While this seems pretty heroic treatment, we shall stand by the ladies. Let's begin expelling.

The Rev. Richard Morse, the street preacher, has been incarcerated in Asheville, for making a nuisance of himself on the streets. No doubt Richard congratulates himself that he is suffering for the cause's sake, while others folks know that he is standing for the special privilege of making a nuisance of himself without suffering the penalty provided for other nuisances.

One by one those states that may cast their first stone at the South fall by the wayside. Illinois fell sometime ago, New York last week, and Ohio is today in the process of falling.

The report that the allies in Pekin demand the head of Prince Tuan, though by way of Shanghai, has the right ring. Now let them go for the old Empress Dowager.

Mayor Young, of Akron, Ohio, seems to be safe.

How shall Greensboro's water supply be obtained?

How to Keep Silver Bright.

To protect silver from tarnishing wrap the silver in cloths or bags that have been dipped in the following: Dissolve three ounces of washing soda in one pint of boiling water; add to this two ounces of oxide of zinc. Stir well and add one quart of cold water. Dip the bags or pieces of unbleached cloth or canton flannel in this and dry them without wringing.

How to Make Sponge Cake.

Fresh sponge cake served warm and broken—never cut—is an always welcome accompaniment of fresh fruits. The old rule of five eggs to one cupful of pastry flour and one cupful of powdered sugar has never been improved upon. The yolks should be beaten until they are thick and the sugar added gradually to them. The grated rind and juice of half a lemon may be used or any other flavoring desired. These should be added to the yolks and sugar and the mixture again thoroughly beaten. When the whites of the eggs have been whipped to a stiff broth, they must be folded in lightly and the flour sifted in a little at a time and folded or cut in without stirring. It requires a moderately hot oven and an hour to bake.

How to Make Cocoanut Cones.

Whip the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth and mix into it lightly and quickly one-fourth pound of sifted sugar, with fived rops of vanilla and two tablespoonfuls of very finely grated cocoanut. Beat thoroughly for ten minutes; drop it in little heaps on oiled paper and bake in a slow oven.

How to Make White Soup.

One fowl, one pound veal, one onion, a little celery, one carrot, seasoning, three quarts water, one quart milk, one gill cream, four ounces lean ham, one tin preserved peas, a little roux. Cut the fowl and veal in pieces, put them in a stewpan with the vegetables cut in slices, add some seasoning, mace and water. Boil, take off the scum and simmer for four hours. Strain off from the fowl and veal, add the milk, cream and roux to the stock and boil 15 minutes till thick. Strain through a sieve, put the peas (prievously made hot) and the cooked ham, cut in dice, in a tureen. Pour the soup over and serve.

Saved by Turkeys.

It is said that the tobacco harvest of Asia Minor has just been saved from destruction in a singular manner. Caterpillars had settled upon the plants in myriads, and all hope of the crop seemed gone, when one of the growers conceived the idea of turning his turkeys among the plants. In a few days the gobblers had effectually cleared the pest on that particular plantation, and other proprietors hastened to acquire flocks of turkeys. The world's supply of "Turkish" for 1900 has been saved.

This cut represents a Home Savings Bank safe. The little safes are oxidized and copepered steel boxes 4 by 3 3 by 2 inches in size, with three tumbler lock and made to resist great force.

The Southern Loan and Trust Company has arranged to loan them free of charge to any person desiridg to open a savings account.

Money deposited in these safes can be taken ont only at our office (where the keys are kept) and when brought to us the amount is counted in your presence and placed to your credet on your pass book. 4 per cent interest, beginning the first day of any month succeeding the deposit, will be allowed on all deposits amounting to $5.00 and upwards provided they are continued for three full months.

ITS ADVANTAGES: You have in your home a bank always open for deposits. You can drop in small amounts you would not take to any bank, thus preventing you from spending it: as money kept loosely near at hand affords a continuous temptation to waste it. You cannot shake or get it out, as we hold the key; consequently do what you ought to, bring or send the bank to us, have its contents counted before you and placed to your credit with us, where it will be a continual reminder to you to add more to it. Many persons waste in life enough money to make them independent. DEPOSITORS WILL PLEASE NOTICE that any sums of money that they may not wish to deposit in the small bank safe may be brought to the office of the Trust Company and deposited on their pass books the same as on any ordinary savings account.

Money deposited on or before September 1st, bears interest from that date.

How to Make Gingerbread.

Two cupfuls of molasses, one cupful of shortening melted, one cupful of cold water, two teaspoonfuls of cooking soda, two teaspoonfuls of white sugar, two teaspoonfuls of ground ginger and one teaspoonful of cloves, with a pinch of salt.

How to Cook Steak and Onions.

Cut one dozen onions into slices. Fry in two tablespoonfuls of butter, stirring constantly for 20 minutes over a brisk fire. Add quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper and stand on the back of the stove where they will keep hot. The onions should be a nice brown. Broil a thick steak, place in the pan with the onions and cover over the top with some of them. Stand in the oven for five minutes; then place the steak on a hot platter, heap with onions, garnish with lettuce leaves, parsley or lemon and serve at once.

How to Remove Labels.

To remove a label from a bottle or jar is often rather a difficulty. This method will always act without any trouble: Wet the label thoroughly and then hold it near the fire for a moment. The steam immediately acts on the paste or gum.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

Grate and weigh one large cocoanut and add the same weight of white sugar. Add this to the milk of the cocoanut and half a teacupful of cold water and stew in a saucepan until tender, occasionally stirring it. When cool add three eggs well whisked, the grated peel of one lemon and a pinch of salt. Make a puff paste and line small tin shapes with the paste. Nearly fill with the mixture and bake 15 minutes.

How to Make Dumplings.

It is superfluous to use shortening in dumplings that are cooked with meat and served with rich sauce. They should be mixed just before using, and the milk with which they are mixed should be cold. One cupful of flour, half a cupful of milk, quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, mixed quickly, dropped by the tablespoonful into the boiling mixture and cooked for 15 minutes without removing the cover of the stewpan, will insure light dumplings every time. If the spoon with which they are dipped is immersed in the hot liquid after every spoonful, the batter will slip from the spoon readily.

How to Make Tomato Toast.

One can tomatoes stewed for ten minutes, seasoned with pepper, salt and sugar and rubbed through a colander, one half cup sweet milk, spoonful butter, six slices of toasted bread. Remove crust. Add a pinch of soda to milk and heat to scalding in a double cooker. Stir in butter and when melted stir in tomatoes. Bring all to a boil and pour over toast. Set in oven for five minutes, then serve.

The Effect of Advertising.

For every line of business in a community there is a certain amount of trade. What share a particular establishment shall have must depend a great deal on its location. If a store or an office be where it can attract the notice of the largest number of people it will have the largest patronage, other things being equal. It is possible, however, for a business man whose establishment is not as well located as those of his competitors to overcome much of the disadvantages by judicious advertising. When he has once gained the confidence of the public the location of his store becomes a matter of secondary importance.

THE GRAND SCHEMER

HE PLANS A DEVICE THAT WILL TAKE THE PUBLIC BY STORM.

Major Crofoot Originates the M. W. B. Company, Filling a Long Felt Want, and Incidentally Takes In a Lawyer Friend.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

The grand promoter sat at his desk in his office with a wandering look on his face and 40 cents in change spread out before him. He had been counting that change over and over and figuring how many times the $28 he owed his landlady, the $12 he owed his tailor, the $4 he owed his hatter and the $75 he owed various other people would go into that 40 cents. He was still about it when he heard a step on the stairs. It was the step of an aggressive man. As it came nearer it betokened the step of a determined man. As the door was burst open without preliminary warning the major recognized the fact that he was face to face with a circumstance. For one brief second his knees weakened, and he caught his breath with a gasp. Then he was on his feet with hand outstretched and a smile on his face and saying:

"Bless my soul, but if you had been two minutes later I should have been on my way to your office! Come in; come in."

"I didn't know as you would remember me," dryly replied the visitor as he looked around the office.

"What! Not remember Thompson of Thompson & Thompson, attorneys at law! You must be joking. My dear man, Major Crofoot never forgets the face or name of a friend. You more than any other man in the world have been in my thoughts for the last three days, and, as I remarked, I was about to start for your office. Thompson, shake hands again."

"I WANT TO TAKE YOU IN."

"I haven't time," replied Thompson. "Look here, major, bills against you to the amount of $200 have been put into our hands for collection. You promised to pay that old board bill two months ago. I want to know what you are going to do?"

"Do, my dear Thompson? Why, I'm going to give you a check in about ten seconds for the whole indebtedness. You could have had your money long ago if you had given me the slightest hint. Major Crofoot has a good memory, but how can you expect him to keep track of shillings when he is dealing in thousands of dollars."

"I heard you were promoting a little," said the lawyer as he waited for the check.

"Ten companies formed in the last three months, my boy, and the eleventh just ready to be incorporated. Grand aggregation of over $300,000,000 capital thus far, and every company bound to pay at least 30 per cent dividend. What do you suppose I've got on hand now?"

"I can't say, and as I'm in a hurry you may fill out that check."

"The biggest scheme of all—the ne plus ultra!" whispered the major with a flourish of his right arm. "I expected to stop at ten, but this scheme came pushing along and I had to take it up. It's the richest of them all. It'll pay 100 per cent profit from the very start. In a week from now the Standard Oil company won't be on earth."

"But I'm here about those bills."

"My dear Thompson, walk with me. When I was hard up, you were one of the few who did not lose confidence in my integrity. The man or woman who trusts Major Crofoot never regrets it. I might not have picked up this eleventh scheme but for you. I wanted to let you in. I wanted to reward you for your faith in me. Thompson, my boy, sell out your law business—give it away—get rid of it before night."

"I want to know about those bills," said the lawyer as he came to a halt.

"The last and best scheme of all," continued the major as he got hold of his arm again, "is the Musical Washboard company, organized on a capital of $20,000,000. The idea is strictly original with me. Washboard runs a music box while you rub. Music box can be placed in the laundry, parlor, kitchen or even the next house. May arrange later on to have 'em connected with drug stores, kindergartens and public schools. Twenty-four tunes in the box, evenly divided between sad and lively. As the washerwoman rubs away at one of your colored shirts the music box strikes up 'Comin Thro' the Rye.' She changes off to a sheet or pillow-slip, and you have 'Home, Sweet Home,' with variations. Thompson, shake hands!"

"I won't do it. I came here to notify you that these bills must be paid at once or you will be haled into court."

"It's a hummer, my boy—it's a success from the start. Costs nothing extra for the music, you know. While you are hiring a woman in the laundry for a dollar and a quarter a day she's furnishing music for the parlor free gratis. Put a bedquilt on the washboard and you can hear the strains of 'The Old Oaken Bucket' from garret to cellar. Let the woman tackle a tablecloth, and everybody goes dancing to the tune of 'Maggie Murphy's Home.' Drug stores can have it at a slight cost for their patrons, and public schools needn't pay a cent. Rub-a-dub-dub! Music by the box! Thompson, don't miss it. Don't throw a good thing over your shoulder. I want to take you in. I have taken you in. You are to be secretary of the M. W. C. at $20,000 a year."

"That's all wind," bluntly exclaimed the lawyer, "and it won't work. Will you draw me a check for $200?"

"Isn't it a wonder that somebody else didn't strike on the idea?" whispered the major as he patted Thompson on the shoulder. "The washboard has been known for 200 years. What was easier than to make friction run a music box to soothe the sorrowful, lull the ailing or enthuse the discouraged? It would have saved thousands of lives annually, prevented thousands of suicides, and yet no one thought of it. Thompson, shake hands! It's the secretaryship at $20,000 a year for you, and I'll get you $50,000 worth of stock at ground floor figures. Months ago, when I was hard up and couldn't pay a bill of $7, you put your hand on my shoulder in a brotherly way and said you had every confidence in my financial integrity. Do you imagine I've forgotten that, Thompson? Not by the grave of my grandfather! I never think of it without the tears coming to my eyes."

"Do you want to be sued for these accounts?" demanded the lawyer when he could get in a word.

"And your reward for trusting me is this," continued the major—"the salary of $20,000 is only a starter. I'll double it after the washboards get into the market. The $50,000 in stock will pay you $25,000 a year in dividends at the very least, and perhaps double that, and there you are. You can safely put your first year's income down at $65,000. Is that enough, Thompson? If not, just say the word, and I'll add $20,000 to it. Meanwhile"—

"Meanwhile I want no more of your wind!"

"Meanwhile, my dear secretary of the M. W. C., I owe $200. You have the accounts to collect. Just mark 'em 'collected,' and I'll pay in the $200 to hold your stock. Always have to have a deposit as evidence of good faith, you know. If it was anybody else, I'd demand a certified check for $10,000. Thompson, go home and throw your lawbooks out of the window."

"I'll be hanged if I do! I want to know"—

"Throw your lawbooks out of the window, dissolve the partnership, and then take your position as secretary. No hurry for a day or two, but don't wait too long. I want to get the articles of incorporation through as soon as possible and patent the idea. Goodby, Thompson, goodby."

"But I want that check!" protested the lawyer as he was pushed out.

"And the washerwoman rubs and the box plays on," replied the smiling major. "We'll have 50,000 washboards playing 'Yankee Doodle' and 'Home of My Soul' before the month is out, and if you want $15,000 in advance on your salary and profits send your boy around and I'll fill out a check. Goodby, Thompson, goodby, and remember to keep mum till our patent is secured."

The door was shut and locked, and there was grim silence for five minutes. Then the major heard threats and vows and mutterings, and some one went slowly down stairs.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY.

In arctic circles it is believed that Lieutenant Peary has reached or is about to reach the north pole. He spent the winter at Etah, in Greenland, from which he was to start for the pole in February. Peary's method is to travel over the ice on sledges, leaving caches of provisions and supplies on the way to insure relief on the return journey.

The Windward, Peary's arctic exploring steamer, was recently outfitted at St. John's, N. F., and started to meet the lieutenant on his return to Etah. Mrs. Peary, the intrepid wife of the explorer, is on the Windward, as she wants to be the first to greet her returning husband. Mrs. Peary accompanied one of the expeditions conducted by her husband, and spent one winter in the arctic regions, at which time her daughter Marie was born.

Booth Tarkington.

Booth Tarkington, who has recently achieved celebrity by his novels, "The Gentleman From Indiana" and "Monsieur Beaucaire," is an Indianian born and bred. He is the last addition to the list of distinguished writers whom that state has produced in somewhat rapid succession. "When Knighthood Was in Flower," by Charles Majore (Edwin Caskoden), also an Indiana man, was still in the first flush of success when "A Gentleman From Indiana" appeared as still another example of Hoosier talent.

Mr. Tarkington is well known in Indianapolis, where he has always lived. His mother is a sister of the late Governor and Senator Newton Booth of California, for whom the writer was named. He was graduated from Princeton college in 1893 and has been popular in the club and social life of the Indiana capital. A bachelor and with the means for leisure, he has devoted his time to the cultivation of the profession of letters, beginning his literary carer as an amateur play writer for the Indianapolis Dramatic club, of which he was a leading and active member. His first success was "The Prodigals," a play in three acts, the scene laid in Trenton, in 1760. It was produced at the Indianapolis Propylæum in 1895 and created no little local enthusiasm. It was then predicted that the young man would obtain distinction, but it was thought it would be in a histrionic direction.

In a pretty home on North Pennsylvania street, only a short distance from that of ex-President Harrison's, Mr. Tarkington occupies a cozy study, where other manuscripts are accumulating for future publication. With the talent displayed in "The Gentleman From Indiana" and "Monsieur Beaucaire" there is every reason to believe that the young man has entered upon a long and successful literary career.

A Smooth Chinese.

Li Hung Chang, concededly the richest and most influential man in China, has kept the peoples of the other countries of the world guessing for several weeks as to his exact attitude in the present oriental trouble. First he was with us, then he was against us, then he was and then he wasn't. There has been just as much mystery about his position in the strife between factions in his own government, though it has lately been conceded that he is very friendly to the dowager empress and her plans.

A Teetotal Naval Officer.

Captain McCalla of the Newark, now in China, is a total abstainer from alcoholic liquors. During his service on the Marblehead in the Spanish war he frequently extended his hospitality to the correspondents on board, inviting them to his cabin to take a drink, an invitation that was accepted with alacrity by newcomers, but never gave them anything but raspberry vinegar, a favorite beverage prepared by his wife and sent to him on the Marblehead.

A Famous Square.

There is said to be no equal in the world to the grand and imposing square of Paris, the Place de la Concorde. On one side of it is the Tuileries, on the opposite side the Champs Elysees and on a third the river Seine. In the center stands the obelisk of Luxon, a magnificent monolith of red Egyptian granite, 74 feet high and weighing 500,000 pounds. This obelisk was one of two of the same shape and size, erected in 1350 B. C., by Rameses the Great at the entrance of the temple of Thebes. Mohammed Ali, pasha of Egypt, presented it to the French government, and in 1836 it was removed to its present position in the Place de la Concorde. The removal and erection on the new site required an outlay of £80,000 and the employment of 800 men, the obelisk being transported to France in a vessel built especially for the purpose.

The Place de la Concorde is rich in historic interest. It was there that the guillotine was erected in the "reign of terror," after the death of Louis XVI, and it was there that the signal was given for the attack on the Bastille in 1789. Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette were beheaded there in 1793, and it was the scene of great rejoicing in 1848, when France was proclaimed a republic. The Place de la Concorde has also been termed the Place Louis XV and Place de la Revolution.

How to Make Omelet Raspoil.

Stew three minced chicken livers in a quarter of a cup of water with a few drops of lemon juice. Cook for five minutes. Make a plain omelet with six eggs or as needed. Fold the opposite side up and turn the minced liver on the center. Fold the other side up, turn on a dish and serve with rashers of bacon.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which Mr John Oliver, of Philadeldhia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina: Local showers tonigh; fair Friday.

Highest temperature at Greensboro past twenty-four hours ending eight o'clock this morning 89, lowest 68: rainfall, .03.

BRIEF INCIDENTS.

Little Things of Interest That Have Happened Today.

Rev. J. R. Hutton is remodeling his residence on Spring Garden street.

Mr. W. G. Frazier is confined to hi room on Church street by sickness.

Open air concert by the Gate City Band on the court house square tonight.

Andrew & Sockwell's horse ran away this morning and demolished their delivery wagon.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College for the colored race has a splendid exhibit at the colored industrial fair in Winston.

Mr. N. L. Hall has recently purchased a lot on the corner of Summit avenue and Bagley street upon which he will erect a handsome residence.

There will be an abundance of nice cream and good cake at the lawn party on the court house green tonight. The Gate City Band will render splendid music.

A number of the business men of Greensboro are having an advertisement of the Central Carolina Fair printed on the back of their envelopes. This is a good idea and should be generally followed.

The new tobacco year opens the first of October, and the indications are that an abundance of the leaf will be sold on the Greensboro market, when it is considered that there is a very light crop.

Mr. J. H. Neese is unloading two big car loads of building marble at the old Crown Cotton Mills. The material is to be used in Dr. Benbow's new building on the corner of South Elm and West Sycamore streets.

WHAT BEST TO DO.

How to Act In Case of Accidents or In Emergencies.

If an artery is cut, red blood spurts. Bandage it above the wound. If a vein is cut, dark blood flows. Bandage it above and below the wound.

If choked, get upon all fours and cough. A sharp blow between the shoulders may help in expelling whatever is in the throat or esophagus.

For slight burns dip the part into cold water. If the skin is destroyed, cover with linseed oil. Common baking soda is a good remedy for burns.

Send for a physician in case of a serious accident, but do what is here directed until he comes.

If you see a person whose clothing is on fire, throw him to the ground and roll him over and over. Throw a coat, rug, carpet or any blanket at hand over him. The object of this is to prevent the flames being swallowed.

The first, best and often the only remedies necessary for scalds and burns are sheets of fine wadding or cotton and flour or chalk. The object is to exclude the air, because if the air is excluded and care is taken not to expose the tender part till a new skin is formed nature generally effects a cure. In case of a scald or burn, cover immediately the part with a sheet of wadding or cotton, taking care not to break any blister that may have formed or even waiting to cut away burned clothing that may adhere to the surface. Cover immediately to keep out the air. A coating of oil over the cotton is a great help in keeping out the air. A light bandage to firmly hold the cotton in place should then be used. When there is no cotton at hand, cover the wound with flour.

If the skin is badly injured and the cotton cannot be readily obtained, cover some linen with fresh butter or lard and lay the same over the part and give the patient, if much exhausted, a little brandy. If not much injured, yet very painful, dip cotton in lime and linseed oil and apply. If nothing else is handy, scraped raw potato may be used or put on common molasses and dust the surface over with flour.

How to Remove Tan.

The "nut brown maid" is very picturesque until the brown begins to fade into a sickly yellow, whereupon she usually flies to the powder puff, forgetting or perhaps ignorant of the fact that steam and gentle massage will expedite her evolution into a winter beauty much more effectually.

How to Make Buttermilk Soup.

To each pint of buttermilk take one tablespoonful of flour and one tablespoonful of butter and a little salt. Bring gradually to a boil, stirring constantly to prevent curdling, and pour on fried bread. Sugar and cinnamon are often added to this soup; also the yolk of an egg. It is considered nutritious for the sick.
